Laura and her painting - first impression

Laura is a super positive lady, from my very first impression. I am sorry to miss our first meeting due to some trivial handling of formality somewhere, letting her wait in vain for an hour. A few days later, we finally caught up and hit the ground running. As a mother of two daughters, she strikes me as someone with a sunny personality, and you can feel it from her works too.

The stereotype Germans are a bit serious at the beginning, but maybe it's because they are prepared for some better ahead.

And that's reflected in her colorful paintings - bright, delightful, and with flowers in every soft corner. And of course, a million and half circles - reminds me of the building-block cells of all creatures.

Two elements put together, you start to wonder why some can't stop looking for trouble when we have a world of colorful flowers everywhere we look. Live in the moment and just be grateful.

Laura's works are a constant reminder of a positive attitude of such. Wake up to see a delightful painting on your wall, and start the day with the right mood.

第一印象-Laura人与画

Laura是一个很开朗的人，第一次约时因为杂务缠身让她白等了一上午，非常不好意思。再次约上，大家聊的很开心。来中国快20年了，学生时期的Laura一定是乐观好客、笑容满面的女孩。现在她是两个女孩的妈妈，但仍是一样开心，至少从画作上我能感觉出来。

我们对德国固有的印象是有些拘谨严肃，她倒用一句：德国人永远觉得有更好的在后面。

但她的画却是色彩鲜艳，充满花世界的气氛和阳光遍地的灿烂。不单如此，上面更有千百个细圈。

我倒是看成是单细胞的结构，是生物的最基本单元。

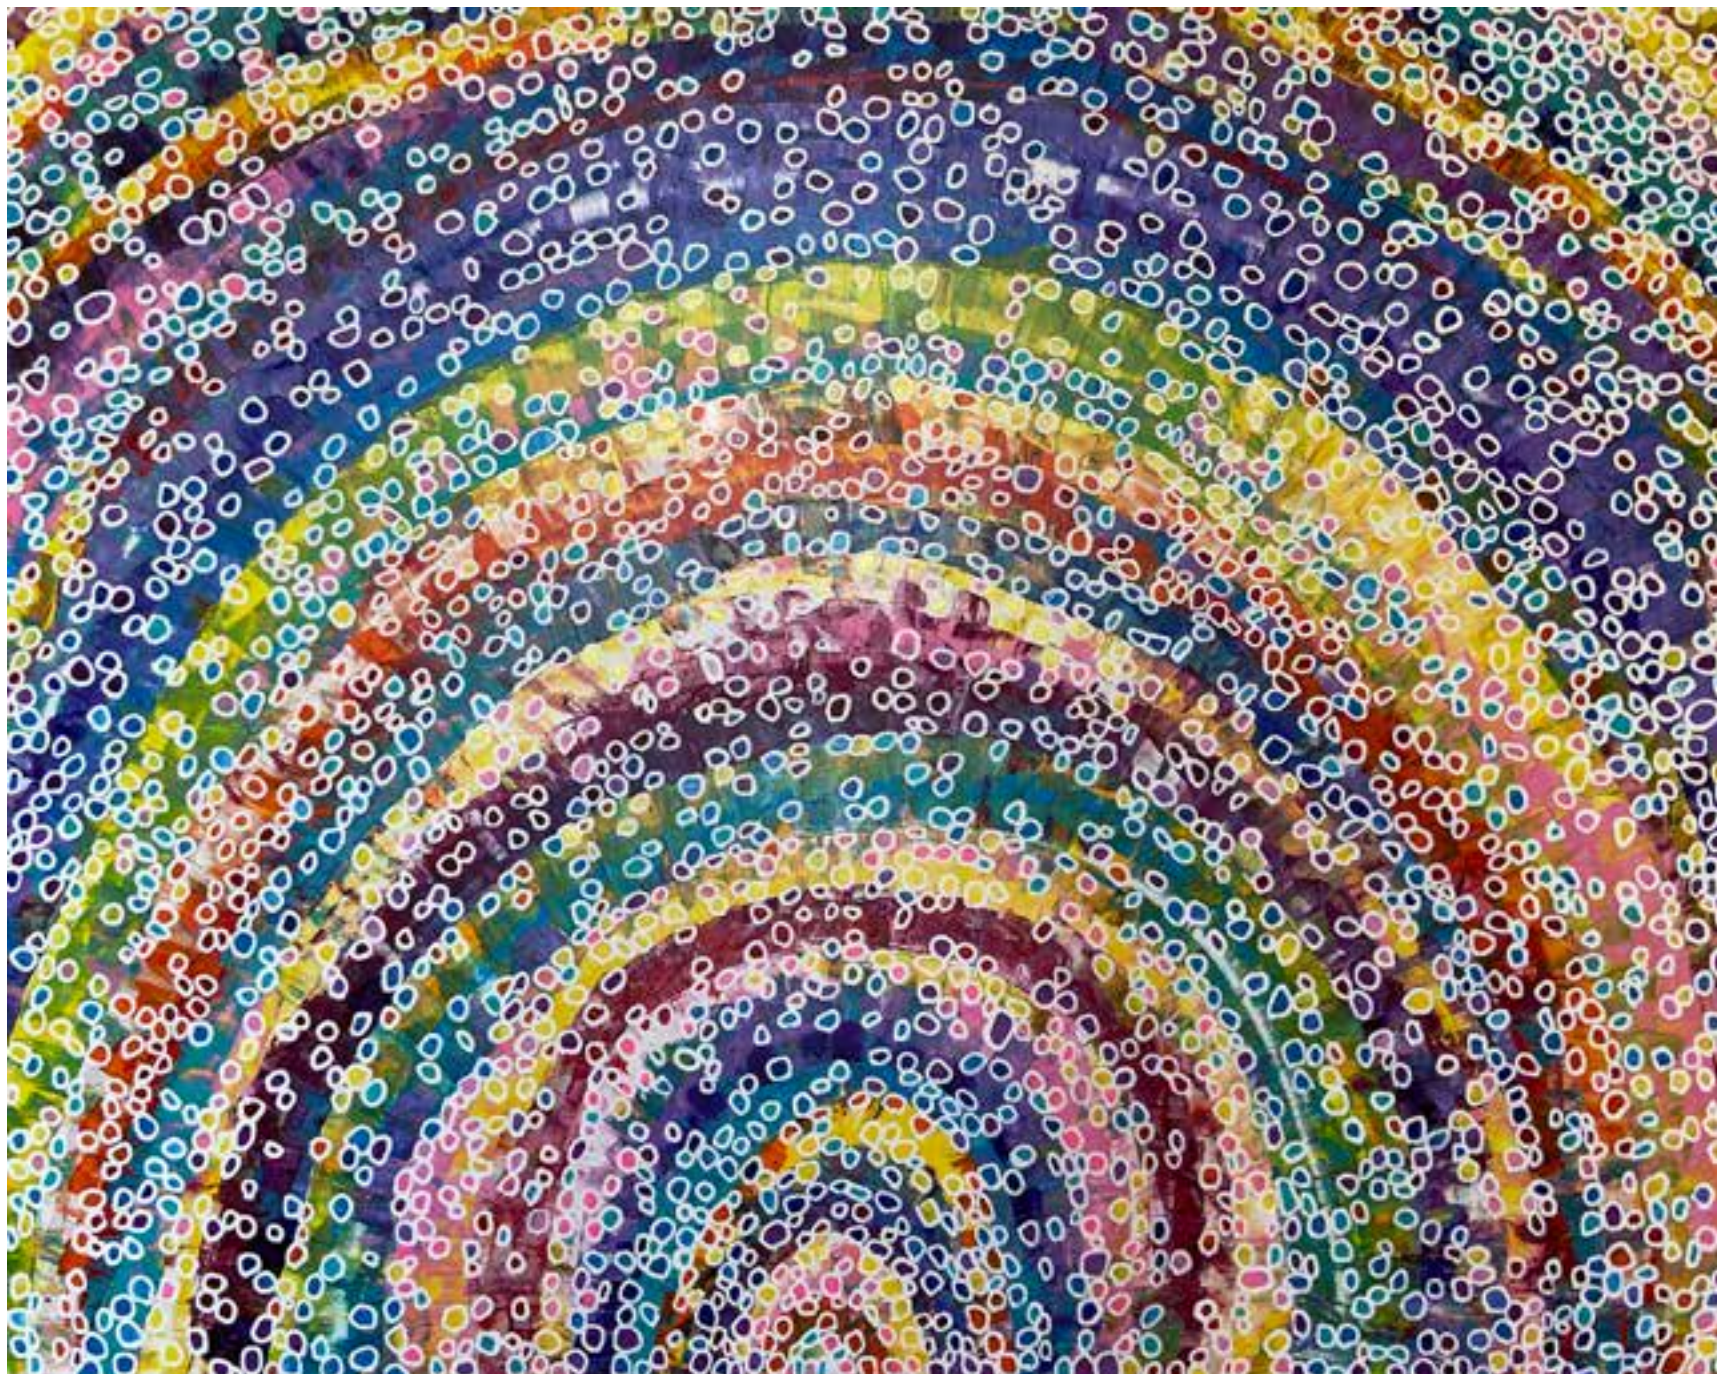

把二者放一起，会联想起人在世要么自寻烦恼，要么乐观活下去。花般世界仍是开着，细胞的你怎样也要活下去，何不把二者结合，把眼前当下来个开心！

她的画便有着这种直接率性的感觉，放在眼前，或挂在家中，永远有阳光，色彩恒久亮丽。
