City

我們的城市

人生有顺境与逆境，有成功与失败；有进取的斗志，也有堕落的颓废；有悲欢离合，也有喜怒哀乐。而这些种种人生际遇与情感都是艺术永恒的主题。我的油画创作“城市系列”灵感便来源于我对当下时代理解，也是我对这个时代理解的一种表达方式。

我喜欢在一些看似很繁华的街角，观察匆匆走过的行人；路灯下陌生的背影；或者是眼前经过的每一个陌生人的生活状态；周边环境、当下社会的关系。这些种种境像勾起了我对家乡和少年时代的回忆，也期待通过画笔能激起人们对民众生活状态及当今社会现状的反思。 // 丁志青

There are good times and bad times in life, successes and failures; ambitious days and depressive hours; people come and go, emotions boil and fade. These life experiences is the eternal theme of art. My thoughts about our times evolve into this series of oil paintings, "City".

I like to observe people from city corners. The passersby often provoke me to ponder how their ways of living connect with the society. I think of my hometown and childhood, hoping that my paintings will inspire reflections on living conditions and social issues. --- Ding Zhiqing

他的画，总是在讲故事

丁志青的油画，描绘的并不是宏大场景和重要建筑物，反而是将镜头投向城市中的某一个街角、某一段路或某一家小店。让我想起美国上世纪的大师Edward Hopper（爱德华·霍普），他将美国街头生活场景捕捉下来，至平凡的一扇窗、一张桌、一二人物，视觉上的呈现可以是平凡不过的房间，办公间，但是他背后折射出来的意象，已超越了现实的表面。

His paintings are always telling stories.

Ding Zhiqing's works cast lights on corners and segments of roads or shops in the city. It reminds of Edward Hopper, the American master in the last century. He captured the solitude of American urban life, from windows, tables, and one or two ordinary people. These kinds of paintings talk beyond the meaning.

似是包围在王家卫的重庆森林中

或是他提出的是一个视觉感受，不单指色彩，而是构图与色彩的组合

It seemed like wandering in Wang Jiawei's Chungking Express
